Any Man With Carbine Classed An "Irregular" To Be Reckoned With

(When two "illegal" armies are engaged in an unofficial war, it becomes increasingly difficult to estimate the numerical strength of the opposing forces. Actually, any man with a rifle in his hand becomes an "irregular" at least. Even so, there can be some measure of their comparative strength. In the following article, fourth in a series of six, Kenneth L. By Kenneth L. Dixon

Attempts to "roll the roll" of comparative strength of Jewish and Arab fighting forces in embattled Palestine today are handicapped by the utterly unorthodox nature of the conflict itself.

Since both armies—and for that matter, even the war itself—can be viewed as "highly illegal" in terms of world authority, there has been little evidence of formal, uniformed troops.

And the very nature of the fight has meant that any man with a carbine in hands prominently could be classed as an "irregular" and a force to be reckoned with.

Nevertheless, some conclusions as to comparative numerical strength can safely be drawn.

When the Arabs unleashed what was called an "all-out" attack on various Jewish positions early this week, there were stories of "more than four thousand" troops being thrown into the battle.

This actually meant, however, that probably more than four thousand additional troops were being committed to the conflict. It is doubtful if most of the men thrown against the isolated Jewish settlements in that onslaught had been used to any great extent in previous encounters.

At least that many mercenaries from nearby Moslem nations have been brought into Palestine during recent weeks.

Although there is no definite way to confirm such estimates, the consensus of impartial observers as to the numerical strength of available combatant Arab fighting men usually starts at about twenty thousand soldiers—and works up from there.

Some say it totals more than 50,000.

Most of those troops, however, have had little or no formal military training, and their combat capacities are confined largely to sniping, skirmishing and similar guerrilla-type warfare.

Rifles, hand grenades and bayonets are about the only weapons with which they have achieved any degree of proficiency.

This, however, does not hold true for the mercenaries brought into the picture during the past few weeks. Many of them have been given fairly intensive combat training.

On the other hand, the Haganah—Palestine Jewry's 30-year-old but still "illegal" defense force—probably threw some twenty to twenty-five thousand highly-trained combat

Announcement was made at the meeting of Chalfont Grange on Monday that its lecturer, Mrs. Andrew Jackson, and the assistant lecturer, Mrs. Raymond S. Detweiler, are attending a State Grange lecturers' conference in Bloomsburg. The program was in charge of Mrs. Norman Lapp.

Among the transactions during the business session, conducted by the master, Jerome H. Taylor, were committee reports.

The Grange accepted an invitation to attend a service in Pleasantville Evangelical Reformed Church, Eureka, on Sunday, April 25, in observance of rural life week.

Fire believed to be of incendiary origin damaged a section of an empty barn on an unoccupied Plumstead township property on Tobacco Hill, near Point Pleasant, on Tuesday morning.

The property is owned by Edna Haas, of New York, N. Y., and was formerly the John Swope property. The residence on the place has not been occupied for some time, and there was nothing of value in the barn.

When members of the Point Pleasant Fire Company arrived at the scene about four o'clock they found that a bonfire had been started in the middle of the barn floor. Part of the roof was destroyed and a portion of the sidewalls before the flames were extinguished.

Amos Toway, 55, Coopersburg, was severely injured Tuesday night when he was struck by a car operated by Ray W. Hossler, Coopersburg. Toway had been walking along Route 309, a mile south of Coopersburg.

Taken to Quakertown Community Hospital, by ambulance, he is said to have a fracture of the right wrist, possible right hip and skull fractures, multiple bruises and a laceration above the right eye.

Quakertown State Police investigated.

JEAN HAMILTON IS WINNER OF CONTEST

Ralph Barclay, Robert Franco Place 2nd, 3rd In Speaking Contest

AT BENSELEM SCHOOL

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, Mar. 25 —As a climax to a six weeks unit on public speaking in senior English class, the annual extemporaneous speaking contest took place in Bensalem township high school yesterday.

Winners were announced immediately after the judges arrived at their decision at the conclusion of the contest.

Gaining first place, and allotted prize of $20, is Jean Hamilton; second place and prize of $10 allotted, Ralph Barclay; third place and prize of $5 allotted, Robert Franco.

The prize money will be presented at commencement time, the money being gift of Bensalem Rotary Club.

Four topics had been chosen by the group, "World Government," "The Marshall Plan," "Universal Military Training," and "Socialized Medicine." Then on Monday of this week the contestants drew lots for speaking positions; and also by lot drew the topic. This turned out to be "The Marshall Plan." Since then the group had been developing various aspects of the subject.

Other contestants yesterday were: Claire Stevenson, Elaine Bishop, and Nancy Rose.

Serving in the capacity of judges were: Lawrence Monroe, Esq., the Rev. Charles Weller, Bristol; and M. R. Reltter, superintendent of Morrisville schools.

Also in attendance at the contest was Edgar Bokes, president of Bensalem Rotary Club. The three winners will present their talks at next week's meeting of the Rotary Club, March 30th.

River Floods Docks And Part of The Parking Lot

Water in the Delaware river yesterday reached a flood stage here and at high tide washed over some of the wharves, flooded one end of the borough parking lot and forced the raising of some of the motors at the filtration plant of the borough water works.

The water was higher here than it has been for several years.

The dock at the water works was covered to a depth of about one inch.

The Market street wharf and a portion of the Bristol Trust Company parking lot was inundated.

A number of cars on the section of the borough parking lot extending from Cedar street to the river were mired for a time. The water extended up the lower end of Cedar street hill.

LABOR INJUNCTIONS

Use of an injunction to head off the threat of a strike at the U. S. Atomic Bomb plant calls attention to a phase of labor relations which has received little attention.

This is the fact that experience has shown the injunction to be one of the most serviceable and necessary measures of dealing with labor problems.

Put it another way: in the matter of injunctions, as in several other fields, the "labor movement" simply went too far, and has had to backpedal. For practical purposes, the labor drive against injunctions is just as dead as the sit-down strike. The public has declined to follow the labor bosses' former argument that any injunction against a labor union is a "yellow-dog" injunction.

When President Truman vetoed the Case Bill a couple of years ago, one of his principal objections to the measure was its provision that high-handed labor-boss policies would be restrained by injunction.

Yet the President, a year ago, broke up the coal deadlock and set John L. Lewis back where he belongs by letting the U. S. Department of Justice invoke injunction powers in connection with the contempt of court proceedings.

And once again, in the recent threat of the atomic bomb workers to walk off the job unless their demands were met, immediately and in full, it was the injunction approach, taken with the knowledge and consent of President Truman, that stopped a strike which might have been an international disaster.

The fact of the matter is, of course, that injunctions offer the only non-violent solution to the sort of situation which arises when a labor boss tries to do something that is unjust and contrary to the welfare and good order of the whole community.

Moreover, injunctions are a middle-of-the-road approach. They are quite different from the policy which the Truman Administration followed for a long time, of simply wringing its hands when the labor chieftains got out of bounds; and different also from calling in the army and trying to make the strikers work "at the bayonet's point."

President Truman is not the only New Deal public official who has found himself forced to invoke the injunction power of government to deal with a bad strike situation. A couple of years ago David Lawrence, one-time Democratic State Chairman of Pennsylvania and now mayor of Pittsburgh, called for an injunction to break the power strike in the Smokey City. Yet he

CLERGY WILL DWELL ON 7 LAST "WORDS"

Three-Hour Service of Worship Arranged For Good Friday

WORSHIP THIS EVENING

The seven last "words" of the Crucified Christ will be accentuated in some services in this area tomorrow, Good Friday, particularly in the churches where three hours devotion will be in order from 12 noon until the hour of three.

Such three-hour services are scheduled for St. James' Episcopal Church, Walnut and Cedar streets; and at Eddington Presbyterian Church.

All protestant clergy of Bristol will participate in the union service at St. James' Church starting at 12 o'clock tomorrow noon, it is stated. "Everyone is urged to attend for at least an hour," it is announced, with individuals privileged to enter when possible and to leave when they must. There will be brief intermissions to allow persons to enter and leave.

The Bristol Ministerium is conducting this service. The ministers will speak on the seven last "words" in the following order: The Revs. Charles Weller, Paul Gleichman, Andrew G. Solla, George E. Boswell, Edward G. Yeomans, I. L. Clark, and William Carroll.

Bensalem churches will hold an adventure in Christian unity in their annual Good Friday service at Eddington Presbyterian Church from 12 to 3. Taking their theme, "Jesus Christ Is Lord," from the Oslo Conference of Christian Youth, the pastors and people plan to focus their worship upon the whole life of the Christ, instead of just the seven last "words."

The service will reach its climax with Presbyterian, Baptist, and Methodist ministers and laymen serving together in the sacrament of Holy Communion. This interdenominational communion service will mark a depth of unity in Christianity which goes beyond denominational barriers.

Pastors participating in this service will include the Rev. Herman Doh, of Andalusia Baptist; the Rev. Henry Heavener, of Cornwells Heights Methodist; the Rev. E. Boardman of Torresdale Presbyterian; the Rev. Vernon Murray of Croyston Methodist; the Rev. Burns Brodhead of Bensalem Methodist; the Rev. W. Morgan, and the Rev. Arthur D. Sargis, the host pastor of Eddington Presbyterian Church.

The seven last "words" of the Christ will be accentuated in a period of meditation in the second hour. The pastors decided this year to center attention upon them in the context of the whole life of the Christ.

MAKING EFFORT TO COMPLETE PROJECT

Falls Playground Committee Eager to End Five-Year Effort

NEED MORE MONEY

FALLSINGTON, Mar. 25 — An effort is being made by the Falls Township Community Playground Committee to end a five-year campaign to beautify and equip eight acres of land for the Fallsington Playground.

The campaign is outlined in a letter mailed to property owners, which reads as follows:

Dear Friends and Neighbors: Are you interested in ending a 5-year struggle to beautify and equip 8 acres of land, known as the Fallsington Playground? With your help this land will be converted into a playground for your children, your neighbors' children, and you. The project cannot be completed without your individual aid.

Every year for the past 5 years we have been trying to complete this project by means of house to house canvassing, bake sales and evening entertainments, etc. Each year this has meant more work for you and more expense, but we did get a little further towards the goal. NOW, you can eliminate all this work and trouble by paying off the contract by means of the enclosed pledge. We will not ask for one thing more this year and we hope next year if we can meet our quota of $3000.00.

It is not a question of how much you give, but that you do give and share in this community project of keeping the children off the street and on a playground operated by trained directors with proper play and sport equipment. Work on the playground has already been started. When completed the playground will be a credit to our Township and the citizens whose donations and work made it possible.

If our total pledges average $10 per family, the community project will be completed, expenses for operating met, and no more begging by us or giving by you.

Would you please help us help you help the children of Falls Township?

Thank you for your good help and your loyalty.

Sincerely,
Falls Township Community Playground Committee.

A financial statement is part of the letter and follows:

Balance carried forward from 1946, $458.84; income 1947, $1616.68; total, $2075.52. Expenses 1947, $1126.29; balance at end of 1947, $949.23; contributions 1948 to date, $1125.00; pledges to date, $285.00. Total cash on hand and pledges, $2359.23; grading contract, $2875.00; engineering, $250.00; seeding, $575.00. Total cost, $3709.00. Pledges needed to complete grading, $1349.77; pledges needed to operate playground, $1659.23.

Extend Deadline On 1948 Auto Tags

HARRISBURG, Mar. 25 — A 15-day extension of the State's Motor Vehicle Registration period was announced today by Otto F. Messner, Acting Secretary of Revenue.

The March 31 legal deadline for obtaining 1948 auto tags has been extended to April 15, Messner explained, because of a shortage of license plate production combined with a record renewal year.

The tags are manufactured by inmates at the Western State Penitentiary, Pittsburgh. Messner said last year's power strike in the area and a recent truck strike delayed production.

Make An Unsuccessful Attempt To Revive Man

Bucks County Rescue Squad was called early last evening to aid Torresdale First-Aid Squad in an unsuccessful attempt to revive James R. Githens at his Cambridge street home, Torresdale.

Githens died, it is stated, as the result of being overcome by illuminating gas. He was asleep on a davenport, it is said, when a gas heater in the room went out.

The Torresdale Squad attempted to revive the man, then summoned Bucks County Rescue Squad, the latter using artificial respiration and the resuscitator for about 1 1/2 hours.

ENLARGES FACILITIES AT TELEPHONE OFFICE

Bell Co. Adds $12,350 Equipment at Cornwells Heights

NEW CABLE, $25,000

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, Mar. 25 —The Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania has just completed a $12,350 addition to the equipment in the Cornwells central office, which will make it possible for the office to serve more than 200 additional subscribers, it was announced today by W. R. Taylor, local manager.

The addition includes one more working position on the Cornwells switchboard, making it possible for a larger force of operators to be on duty during the busy hours.

Mr. Taylor said the company is also spending approximately $25,000 in building new cable and wire lines in the Cornwells area during 1948.

The new addition will make it possible for the company to provide telephones within the next few days for those who are waiting only because of the shortage of central office facilities. However, the manager pointed out, there are about 75 persons waiting who are located in places where no cable or wire lines are available to connect them with the central office.

"This new line construction work is being pushed as rapidly as possible and we expect that everyone now waiting will have service by the end of the summer," he said.

Released Time Pupils Have Easter Program

Pupils of grades five, six and seven who attend classes under the Released Time School for Religious Education here, participated in a special Easter program yesterday afternoon in Bristol Methodist Church.

Recorded music, including "The Holy City," was in charge of the Rev. Charles Weller, pastor of Bristol Methodist Church; the Scripture story of the crucifixion was read by the Rev. George E. Boswell, rector of St. James' Episcopal Church; and prayer by the Rev. Andrew G. Solla, pastor of Presbyterian Church of Our Saviour, was followed by the Lord's prayer in unison by the girls and boys.

Retiring to the basement the group viewed film strips of the Crucifixion.

Need Janitor Service and Some Good Repairing

(By "The Stroller")
Clean-up Week opens April 1st in Bristol and it has been suggested that the co-operation of the P. R. R. be solicited.

The freight yards here are always dirty in the area extending from Adams Hollow Creek to Otter Creek.

The condition of the passenger station is deplorable. The waiting rooms are rarely repaired. The windows are dirty. Repairs have been made to some of the benches by tacking plywood over the cracked and splintered benches and then the new wood is never painted.

The steps leading to the elevated platforms are rarely swept and piles of dirt are in the corners. Writing in crayons decorates the interior of the elevated waiting rooms.

Bristol station is big enough and used enough to be given janitor service.

The overhanging roofs are rotted and water drips on pedestrians for nearly 24 hours after a rain.

Clean-up Week begins April 1st.

SUIT OUTGROWTH OF "DAMAGES" TO AN ELECTRIC LINE

Three Complainants Name Harry Schechtman and Roosevelt Reed

A TRESPASS ACTION

Newtown Firm Named Defendants In An Action In Assumpsit

DOYLESTOWN, Mar. 25 — Two suits, one of which claims damages because an electric power line and poles were ruined on a Warwick township property, and the other in which a Newtown heating firm is being sued, have been filed in the Court of Common Pleas, here.

Claiming damages amounting to more than $250, three complainants, Hyman Chudnoff, Simon Gosfield and Daniel Weinstock, of Warwick township, have named Harry Schechtman, 5 Municipal Market, Atlantic City, N. J., and Roosevelt Reed, 338 South Second street, the defendants in an action in trespass.

The trio of complainants, who bought the Germinal Colony Association's two lots March 31, 1932, aver, in a statement of claim, that on August 20, 1947, one of the defendants, Reed, was operating a truck owned by the other defendant, Schechtman.

The defendant's truck damaged electric power lines, poles and other equipment. The trio of complainants are also suing for the costs of filing the suit in court to be included with the damage claim.

Frank G. Coffey and W. K. Quin, trading as the Home Heating and Appliance Company, 25 South State street, Newtown, have named the defendants in an action in assumpsit by Crane Company, 245 Master street, Philadelphia.

The complainant is suing for the sum of $321.69, with interest from January 31, 1947, and involves the purchase of radiators, tubing, bushings, boilers and valves.

Cornwells Girls Give Radio Program

Cornwells Heights Intermediate Troop No. 46, Girl Scouts presented the 23rd program in the series of broadcasts on the Girl Scout amateur radio show at Trenton, N. J., Saturday. The leader of this group was Mrs. Reese Thomas, and the assistant leader, Mrs. Marion Lockhart. The accompanist was Mrs. Frances Yeagle.

The program opened with an introduction by Barbara Winch. The following selections were given: (1) Chorus, "Casey"; (2) Sextet, composed of Barbara Winch, Grace Brophy, Gloria Aikens, Jean Elder, Patty Tither and Evelyn Mandrell, sang "While Strolling Thru the Park"; (3) Medley, "Barney Google"; (4) "Daisy"; (5) "Come Away With Me, Lucille"; (6) Sextet, composed of Leota Hoff, "Judy" Thomas, Geraldine Lignone, "Betty" Ann Yeagle, Martha Brenner, and "Judy" Elder, sang "On the Board Walk"; (7) Sextet, "Oh You Beautiful Doll", sung by Sally Ellis, Ruth Ervin, Margaret Durr, Barbara Pettit, Jane McIlhenny, and Geraldine Polakowski; and (8) Chorus, "Goodbye", sung to the tune of "Casey". An interview by Barbara Wright on "Our First Year of Scouting", concluded this week's broadcast.

The winner of the 21st program was Charlotte Naak of Eureka Intermediate Troop No. 4.

A SUMMARY OF THE NEWS

With the nation's fuel reserves dwindling rapidly as soft coal miners remained away from the pits, the Interstate Commerce Commission yesterday ordered a 25% reduction in the freight service provided by locomotives burning coal. President Truman named a board of inquiry to study the dispute and was determined to use all the authority available under the Taft-Hartley Act as he headed for another showdown with John L. Lewis.

The House disregarded the warnings of Administration Democrats and followed the Senate in approving the Republican-sponsored $4,800,000,000 tax-reduction bill by the overwhelming vote of 288 to 67. The bill was forwarded to the White House, where President Truman was expected to veto it.

The House received a letter from former President Hoover urging passage of the European Recovery Program as "a major dam against Russian aggression" amid indications that the program would be approved overwhelmingly.

Congress was urged to support even at the risk of war, a temporary draft law and universal military training by a Unitarian minister who was a guest of Foreign Minister Masaryk at the time of the Communist coup in Czechoslovakia.

LABOR INJUNCTIONS

Use of an injunction to head off the threat of a strike at the U. S. Atomic Bomb plant calls attention to a phase of labor relations which has received little attention.

This is the fact that experience has shown the injunction to be one of the most serviceable and necessary measures of dealing with labor problems.

Put it another way: in the matter of injunctions, as in several other fields, the "labor movement" simply went too far, and has had to backpedal. For practical purposes, the labor drive against injunctions is just as dead as the sit-down strike. The public has declined to follow the labor bosses' former argument that any injunction against a labor union is a "yellow-dog" injunction.

When President Truman vetoed the Case Bill a couple of years ago, one of his principal objections to the measure was its provision that high-handed labor-boss policies would be restrained by injunction.

Yet the President, a year ago, broke up the coal deadlock and set John L. Lewis back where he belongs by letting the U. S. Department of Justice invoke injunction powers in connection with the contempt of court proceedings.

And once again, in the recent threat of the atomic bomb workers to walk off the job unless their demands were met, immediately and in full, it was the injunction approach, taken with the knowledge and consent of President Truman, that stopped a strike which might have been an international disaster.

The fact of the matter is, of course, that injunctions offer the only non-violent solution to the sort of situation which arises when a labor boss tries to do something that is unjust and contrary to the welfare and good order of the whole community.

Moreover, injunctions are a middle-of-the-road approach. They are quite different from the policy which the Truman Administration followed for a long time, of simply wringing its hands when the labor chieftains got out of bounds; and different also from calling in the army and trying to make the strikers work "at the bayonet's point."

President Truman is not the only New Deal public official who has found himself forced to invoke the injunction power of government to deal with a bad strike situation. A couple of years ago David Lawrence, one-time Democratic State Chairman of Pennsylvania and now mayor of Pittsburgh, called for an injunction to break the power strike in the Smokey City. Yet he

Three-Hour Service of Worship Arranged For Good Friday

WORSHIP THIS EVENING

The seven last "words" of the Crucified Christ will be accented in some services in this area tomorrow, Good Friday, particularly in the churches where three hours devotion will be in order from 12 noon until the hour of three.

Such three-hour services are scheduled for St. James' Episcopal Church, Walnut and Cedar streets; and at Eddington Presbyterian Church.

All protestant clergy of Bristol will participate in the union service at St. James' Church starting at 12 o'clock tomorrow noon, it is stated. "Everyone is urged to attend for at least an hour," it is announced, with individuals privileged to enter when possible and to leave when they must. There will be brief intermissions to allow persons to enter and leave.

The Bristol Ministerium is conducting this service. The ministers will speak on the seven last "words" in the following order: The Revs. Charles Weller, Paul Gleichman, Andrew G. Solja, George E. Boswell, Edward G. Yeomans, I. L. Clark, and William Carroll.

Bensalem churches will hold an adventure in Christian unity in their annual Good Friday service at Eddington Presbyterian Church from 12 to 3. Taking their theme, "Jesus Christ is Lord," from the Oslo Conference of Christian Youth, the pastors and people plan to focus their worship upon the whole life of the Christ, instead of just the seven last "words."

The service will reach its climax with Presbyterian, Baptist, and Methodist ministers and laymen serving together in the sacrament of Holy Communion. This interdenominational communion service will mark a depth of unity in Christianity which goes beyond denominational barriers.

Pastors participating in this service will include the Rev. Herman Doh, of Andalusia Baptist; the Rev. Henry Heavener, of Cornwells Heights Methodist; the Rev. E. Boardman of Torresdale Presbyterian; the Rev. Vernon Murray of Croydon Methodist; the Rev. Burns Broadhead of Bensalem Methodist; the Rev. W. Morgan, and the Rev. Arthur D. Sargis, the host pastor of Eddington Presbyterian Church.

The seven last "words" of the Christ will be accented in a period of meditation in the second hour. The pastors decided this year to center attention upon them in the context of the whole life of the Christ.

This evening at eight the Laurel Bend Parent-Teachers Association will hold a meeting in Laurel Bend School. Films will be shown by Robert Wilson, Philadelphia Electric Co. Refreshments will be served with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Douglas and Mrs. Walter Prickett in charge.

YOUNGSTERS AWAIT EASTER EGG HUNTS

Numerous Events Are Scheduled Throughout The Area

SCHEDULE IS GIVEN

Girls and boys living in areas where Easter egg hunts are scheduled can scarcely bide the time until the events.

One such hunt is to be held for members of the primary department of the Eddington Presbyterian Sunday School on Easter Monday at two o'clock in the afternoon.

Morrisville Rotary Club is sponsoring such a hunt on Saturday, March 27th. The place selected for the event is Williamson Park, and the time is nine a. m.

Serving as chairman of the hunt committee is Chief of Police Harry F. Christ. His aides are: Theodore Campbell, Royce Haines, Winfield Page, John H. Solt, Robert Lister, Edward R. Roberts, Jr., Seymour VanOrden, Eric Donelson, Fred Greenlee, Jesse Hunt, Leon Burton and Nicholas Jammell.

Girls and boys of grades one, two and three from schools at Low-er Makefield, Falls township and Morrisville school are eligible to take part. The rain date is April 3rd.

Extend Deadline On 1948 Auto Tags

HARRISBURG, Mar. 25—A 15-day extension of the State's Motor Vehicle Registration period was announced today by Otto F. Messner, Acting Secretary of Revenue.

The March 31 legal deadline for obtaining 1948 auto tags has been extended to April 15, Messner explained, because of a shortage of license plate production combined with a record renewal year.

The tags are manufactured by inmates at the Western State Penitentiary, Pittsburgh. Messner said last year's power strike in the area and a recent truck strike delayed production.

8 'n' 40 Plans to "Adopt" Girl Patient at Hospital

LANGHORNE, Mar. 25—Arrangements to "adopt" a girl patient at Rush Hospital, Malvern, and hearing of committee reports formed part of the business at the March meeting of Bucks County Salon, No. 74, 8 'n' 40 Society in the American Legion country club home, here, last evening.

Mrs. Jennie Daub, of Burlington, N. J., presided. A "birthday" party is arranged for the unit for April 28th at Bracken Post home, Bristol. There was an exchange of Pollyanna gifts.

Members were served refreshments by Mrs. James Tracy and Mrs. Warren Randall.

MAKING EFFORT TO COMPLETE PROJECT

Falls Playground Committee Eager to End Five-Year Effort

NEED MORE MONEY

FALLSINGTON, Mar. 25 — An effort is being made by the Falls Township Community Playground Committee to end a five-year campaign to beautify and equip eight acres of land for the Fallsington Playground.

The campaign is outlined in a letter mailed to property owners, which reads as follows:

Dear Friends and Neighbors: Are you interested in ending a 5-year struggle to beautify and equip 8 acres of land, known as the Fallsington Playground? With your help this land will be converted into a playground for your children, your neighbors' children, and you. The project cannot be completed without your individual aid.

Every year for the past 5 years we have been trying to complete this project by means of house to house canvassing, bake sales and evening entertainments, etc. Each year this has meant more work for you and more expense, but we did get a little further towards the goal. NOW, you can eliminate all this work and trouble by paying off the contract by means of the enclosed pledge. We will not ask for one thing more this year and we hope next year if we can meet our quota of $3000.00.

It is not a question of how much you give, but that you do give and share in this community project of keeping the children off the street and on a playground operated by trained directors with proper play and sport equipment. Work on the playground has already been started. When completed the playground will be a credit to our Township and the citizens whose donations and work made it possible.

If our total pledges average $10 per family, the community project will be completed, expenses for operating met, and no more begging by us or giving by you.

Would you please help us help you help the children of Falls Township?

Thank you for your good help and your loyalty.

Sincerely,

Falls Township Community Playground Committee

A financial statement is part of the letter and follows:

Balance carried forward from 1946, $458.84; income 1947, $1616.68; total, $2075.52. Expenses 1947, $1125.29; balance at end of 1947, $950.23; contributions 1948 to date, $1125.00; pledges to date, $285.00. Total cash on hand and pledges, $2359.23; grading contract, $2875.00; engineering, $250.00; seeding, $575.00. Total cost, $3700.00. Pledges needed to complete grading, $1340.77; pledges needed to operate playground, $1659.23.

LATEST NEWS BULLETINS

Killed by High-Powered Saw

Trenton, N. J.—Earl Goldstein, 29, of Trenton, a paper plant employee, was killed last night when the blade of a high-powered rotary saw hurtled off and struck him in the neck. The accident took place in the Panelyte plant of the St. Regis Paper Corp.

Woman and Daughters Jump from Fire

Trenton, N. J.—Mrs. Pauline Graf, 40, was injured seriously today when she and her two daughters leaped from the second floor of their fire-swept home in Trenton. Mrs. Graf, wife of a tannery owner, suffered possible internal injuries, but the daughters, aged 13 and 9, jumped unhurt into the arms of their father, John, 42. The interior of the first-floor taproom was ruined.

Forrestal Asks Armed Forces Boost

Washington—Defense Secretary Forrestal asked Congress today to boost the actual strength of the armed forces by 349,500 officers and men at an added cost of three billion dollars. Forrestal and his Joint Chiefs of Staff presented the new "short term" rearmament program to the Senate Armed Services Committee with this declaration: "The odds are not yet on Russia or war."

"The odds are still on the United States and peace. And if the United States acts at once and with firm and resolute purpose, the odds will continue to rest on the United States and peace through the years ahead."

Make An Unsuccessful Attempt To Revive Man

Bucks County Rescue Squad was called early last evening to aid Torresdale First-Aid Squad in an unsuccessful attempt to revive James R. Githens at his Cambridge street home, Torresdale.

Githens died, it is stated, as the result of being overcome by illuminating gas. He was asleep on a davenport, it is said, when a gas heater in the room went out.

The Torresdale Squad attempted to revive the man, then summoned Bucks County Rescue Squad, the latter using artificial respiration and the resuscitator for about 1½ hours.

ENLARGES FACILITIES AT TELEPHONE OFFICE

Bell Co. Adds $12,350 Equipment at Cornwells Heights

NEW CABLE, $25,000

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, Mar. 25 —The Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania has just completed a $12,350 addition to the equipment in the Cornwells central office, which will make it possible for the office to serve more than 200 additional subscribers, it was announced today by W. B. Taylor, local manager.

The addition includes one more working position on the Cornwells switchboard, making it possible for a larger force of operators to be on duty during the busy hours.

Mr. Taylor said the company is also spending approximately $25,000 in building new cable and wire lines in the Cornwells area during 1948.

The new addition will make it possible for the company to provide telephones within the next few days for those who are waiting only because of the shortage of central office facilities. However, the manager pointed out, there are about 75 persons waiting who are located in places where no cable or wire lines are available to connect them with the central office.

"This new line construction work is being pushed as rapidly as possible and we expect that everyone now waiting will have service by the end of the summer," he said.

Released Time Pupils Have Easter Program

Pupils of grades five, six and seven who attend classes under the Released Time School for Religious Education here, participated in a special Easter program yesterday afternoon in Bristol Methodist Church.

Recorded music, including "The Holy City," was in charge of the Rev. Charles Weller, pastor of the Bristol Methodist Church; the Scripture story of the crucifixion was read by the Rev. George E. Boswell, rector of St. James' Episcopal Church; and prayer by the Rev. Andrew G. Solja, pastor of Presbyterian Church of Our Saviour, was followed by the Lord's prayer in unison by the girls and boys.

Retiring to the basement the group viewed film strips of the Crucifixion.

SUIT OUTGROWTH OF "DAMAGES" TO AN ELECTRIC LINE

Three Complainants Name Harry Schechtman and Roosevelt Reed

A TRESPASS ACTION

Newtown Firm Named Defendants In An Action In Assumpsit

DOYLESTOWN, Mar. 25 — Two suits, one of which claims damages because an electric power line and poles were ruined on a Warwick township property, and the other in which a Newtown heating firm is being sued, have been filed in the Court of Common Pleas, here.

Claiming damages amounting to more than $250, three complainants, Hyman Chudoff, Simon Gosfield and Daniel Weinstock, of Warwick township, have named Harry Schechtman, 5 Municipal Market, Atlantic City, N. J., and Roosevelt Reed, 338 South Second street, the defendants in an action in trespass.

The trio of complainants, who bought the Germinal Colony Association's two lots March 31, 1932, aver, in a statement of claim, that on August 20, 1947, one of the defendants, Reed, was operating a truck owned by the other defendant, Schechtman.

The defendant's truck damaged electric power lines, poles and other equipment. The trio of complainants are also suing for the costs of filing the suit in court to be included with the damage claim.

Frank G. Coffey and W. K. Quin, trading as the Home Heating and Appliance Company, 25 South State street, Newtown, have been named the defendants in an action in assumpsit by Crane Company, 245 Master street, Philadelphia.

The complainant is suing for the sum of $321.69, with interest from January 31, 1947, and involves the purchase of radiators, tubing, bushings, boilers and valves.

Cornwells Girls Give Radio Program

Cornwells Heights Intermediate Troop, No. 46, Girl Scouts presented the 23rd program in the series of broadcasts on the Girl Scout amateur radio show at Trenton, N. J., Saturday. The leader of this group was Mrs. Irene Thomas, and the assistant leader, Mrs. Marion Lockhart. The accompanist was Mrs. Frances Yeagle.

The program opened with an introduction by Barbara Winch. The following selections were given: (1) Chorus, "Casey"; (2) Sextet, composed of Barbara Winch, Grace Brophy, Gloria Aikens, Jean Elder, Patty Tither and Evelyn Mandrell, sang "While Strolling Thru the Park"; (3) Medley, "Barney Google"; (4) "Daisy"; "Come Away With Me, Lucille"; (5) Sextet, composed of Leota Hloff, "Judy" Thomas, Geraldine Lignone, "Bet-tom" Ann Yeagle, Martha Brenner, and "Judy" Elder, sang "On the Board Walk"; (6) Sextet, "Oh You Beautiful Doll," sung by Sally Ellis, Ruth Elder, Margaret Durr, Barbara Pettit, Jane McIlhenney, and Geraldine Polakowski; and (6) Chorus, "Goodbye," sung to the tune of "Casey." An interview by Barbara Winch on "Our First Year of Scouting," concluded this week's broadcast.

The winner of the 21st program was Charlotte Nask of Eureka Intermediate Troop No. 4.

Need Janitor Service and Some Good Repairing

(By "The Stroller")

Clean-up Week opens April 1st in Bristol and it has been suggested that the co-operation of the P. R. R. be solicited.

"The freight yards here are always dirty in the area extending from Adams Hollow Creek to Otter Creek."

The condition of the passenger station is deplorable. The waiting rooms are rarely cleaned. The windows are dirty. Repairs have been made to some of the benches by tacking plywood over the cracked and splintered benches and then the new wood is never painted.

The steps leading to the elevated platforms are rarely swept and piles of dirt are in the corners. Writing in crayons decorates the interior of the elevated waiting rooms.

Bristol station is big enough and used enough to be given janitor service.

The overhanging roofs are rotted and water drips on pedestrians for nearly 24 hours after a rain.

Clean-up Week begins April 1st.

BREAKING OUT VICTOR

Throughout the U. S. Navy the letter V (pronounced victor) stands for aviation. A "VR" is a squadron of transport planes, a "VPB" a patrol-bombing squadron, a "VF" a fighter squadron. Among ships an "AV" is a sea-plane tender, a "CV" a large carrier. Aboard a carrier the alphabetical signal flag "V" is hoisted when aircraft are being launched or taken aboard.

When the signal bridge "breaks out Victor," the ship is prepared to do everything possible to help the pilots of even the conventional planes with radial engines. To offer maximum lift for the wings, the ship at high speed is turned squarely into the wind.

Wind speed and ship's speed combined, the pilot has a wind of perhaps 40 or 50 knots to support him and shorten his run on wheels. Even so, a flight deck can look awfully short.

Consider, then, what a flight deck looks like to the pilot of a jet fighter plane taking off from the U. S. S. Boxer. His FJ-1, capable almost of the speed of sound, has a much higher take-off and landing speed than the older-type planes. He must become airborne before or upon reaching the forward end of the deck.

Coming in to land, he has to stop before "running out of deck." His brakes and the arresting gear on deck are all-important.

The amazing report is that these jet planes have operated successfully from the Boxer's deck. Take-offs have been made under the plane's power alone, requiring a long run, and with the aid of a catapult that hurls the plane and pilot into the air at 145 miles an hour. That's acceleration!

The Navy is converting to carrier jets as fast as possible. To break out Victor in this way will help—or so it is hoped—to insure the peace.

There's talk of another scrap drive, and housewives may be called upon to give up another skillet in the interest of something or other, without having learned how the first one was used to whip the Japs.

Correspondent home from Europe says he learned Russia will not work with the United States for peace. In a former era reporters could do that good without leaving the office.

There has been much speculation over purchase by the Army of 161,172 chairs, but no one has advanced the supposition that we will sit out the next war.

Labor Injunctions

had been head of the Little New Deal party when it wiped the injunction off the labor-law books in this state, and had been one of the noisiest critics of the Republicans when they restored it in 1939.

During the days when the labor propagandists were busy trying to prove that the Taft-Hartley Act was a "slave labor law," one of their great criticisms of that act was that it, like its predecessor the Case Bill, relied on injunctions for two purposes: first, to make the unions live up to their contracts, and second, to protect the public from unnecessary strikes.

Yet the injunction end of the Taft-Hartley is one of the very few parts of it which have not been seriously weakened by the Truman appointees and their pro-union-boss decisions.

Of course, the fact is that even under the Wagner Act, the Federal courts had abundant power to enjoin labor leaders from conduct which was in conflict with public order and the general good. The injunction against Lewis, referred to above, was taken months before the Taft-Hartley Bill was passed.

Injunctions are a necessary link in rule by law. They are not required in a dictatorship, of course, which is rule by men. But in our representative republican form of government, with the judiciary set up as an independent branch of government, there has to be some means of freezing a situation until the courts can review it, and also some means of requiring the losers in the law suits to live up to the court's decisions. Otherwise we have chaos.

There has been talk of invoking injunctions to break up the new coal walk-out, which has begun to have serious national effects in many fields, as well as the meat strike, which is starting to disrupt prices and food supplies.

It will be interesting to see whether this approach by law will have the sort of success which previous policies, largely either intimidation or appeasement, failed to produce during the first two years of the Truman Administration.

Clergy Will Dwell On 7 Last "Words"

On Friday evening at 7:45 there will be a worship service in Cornwells Methodist Church. The pastor, the Rev. H. Henry Heavener, will speak on "The Crucifixion of Our Lord." There will be special instrumental and vocal music.

Other Good Friday services will include: Presbyterian Church of Our Saviour, eight p. m.; Zion Lutheran Church, 7:30 p. m.; Calvary Baptist Church, 7:45 p. m.; Grace Episcopal Church, Halmerville, 7:30; sermon "Judas" and litany; Newport Road Community Chapel, service at 7:30; Pennell Lutheran Church, Holy Communion, eight p. m.; Crofton Lutheran Church, Holy Communion, eight p. m.; Neshaminy Methodist Church, Halmerville, television program, featuring sermon by Bishop Carson, 9 p. m.

Services this evening in various churches include: Cornwells Heights Methodist Church, communion service, 7:45, with Dr. Charles Kitto, north district superintendent, officiating, and special music by junior and senior choirs; Harriman Methodist Church, Sacrament of Holy Communion, eight o'clock; Presbyterian Church of Our Saviour, celebration of Lord's Supper, eight o'clock; Zion Lutheran Church, service at 7:30; Edgely Presbyterian Church, communion at eight o'clock; Neshaminy Methodist Church, Halmerville, Holy Communion, eight o'clock.

Faith Clarke's SHOPPING TIPS FOR BUDGETEERS

ALWAYS NEW GLOVES for Easter! Your glove wardrobe, or that of a friend, can always stand the addition of another pair, and on Easter morning, especially, the hands should be spotlessly garbed. As usual, "Kayser" has come up with new Easter and spring gloves of high quality at reasonable prices. Also, as usual, Snellenburgs is featuring some of the best Kayser offerings. For the softer tailors and dressy costumes, there are six-button lengths of fine, firm, de-lustered rayon. These have fashionable back openings, each fastened with a pearl button. These gloves come in navy, white, gray, in sizes 6 to 7½, at $1.98. Chipper Kayser "shorties", of equally good fit, hand-sewn, with "cuff-link" fastenings of two crocheted buttons each, come in sizes 6 to 7½, at $2.98, etc. Your choice of white stitched with navy, white with white. (1st fl.)

USEFUL REALM describes the realistic leaf coasters that will make such spring-like Easter gifts. Seen on a forest floor, you couldn't tell them from the real things! These large "natural" leaves are fashioned from a fine green rubber that is resistant to water, heat, liquor, etc. Deep veins trap moisture, prevent skidding. Use them under glasses, hot plates, candles, vases, etc. Well worth $2.98 for a boxed set of eight. Snellenburgs China & Glassware Dept. (3rd fl.)

SPRING HANDBAGS are fascinating. They are not necessarily expensive, although the $4.95 faillie ones at Snellenburgs certainly look it. These faillies are all the new touches and are in all the new shapes. Also, there are interesting broadcloth numbers in several colors! These are priced at $2.95 and $4.95. Nice for you — nice for gifting! There's the usual U. S. tax of 20% on all bag prices. (1st fl.)

BUDGET BONNETS. That's what I call them, because their charm is so little — $1.95 to $6.75. You'll find them in the Snellenburgs First Floor Millinery Dept. Every "budgeteer" family must have new Easter headgear, inexpensive or luxurious. There's a special group for the younger women and girls, too — a $2.95 and $3.75 selection of the new straw-cloth. These have open crowns, sweet flowers, glamorous veils! Hurry — there's still time! (1st fl.)

P. S. Do send clippings with mail orders when you can! Phone free (5c, 10c, and 15c out-of-town calls only). Penna.—ENT. 10160; Jersey—WX-1150. Shop located Market, 11th to 12th Sts., Phila.—through to 1125-29 Chestnut St. Be hearin' from post!

BREAKING OUT VICTOR
Throughout the U. S. Navy the letter V (pronounced victor) stands for aviation. A "VR" is a squadron of transport planes, a "VPB" a patrol-bombing squadron, a "VF" a fighter squadron. Among ships an "AV" is a sea-plane tender, a "CV" a large carrier. Aboard a carrier the alphabetical signal flag "V" is hoisted when aircraft are being launched or taken aboard.

When the signal bridge "breaks out Victor," the ship is prepared to do everything possible to help the pilots of even the conventional planes with radial engines. To offer maximum lift for the wings, the ship at high speed is turned squarely into the wind.

Wind speed and ship's speed combined, the pilot has a wind of perhaps 40 or 50 knots to support him and shorten his run on wheels. Even so, a flight deck can look awfully short.

Consider, then, what a flight deck looks like to the pilot of a jet fighter plane taking off from the U. S. S. Boxer. His FJ-1, capable almost of the speed of sound, has a much higher take-off and landing speed than the older-type planes. He must become airborne before or upon reaching the forward end of the deck.

Coming in to land, he has to stop before "running out of deck." His brakes and the arresting gear on deck are all-important.

The amazing report is that these jet planes have operated successfully from the Boxer's deck. Take-offs have been made under the plane's power alone, requiring a long run, and with the aid of a catapult that hurls the plane and pilot into the air at 145 miles an hour. That's acceleration!

The Navy is converting to carrier jets as fast as possible. To break out Victor in this way will help—or so it is hoped—to insure the peace.

There's talk of another scrap drive, and housewives may be called upon to give up another skillet in the interest of something or other, without having learned how the first one was used to whip the Japs.

The decayed banana award for loyalty to the "liberal" cause should go to followers of Henry Wallace who insist they understand him when he doesn't know what he is talking about.

Psychologist says women have more car accidents but fewer fatalities. He takes no stock in Kipling's theory that the female of the species is more deadly than the male.

Correspondent home from Europe says he learned Russia will not work with the United States for peace. In a former era reporters could do that good without leaving the office.

There has been much speculation over purchase by the Army of 161,172 chairs, but no one has advanced the supposition that we will sit out the next war.

Labor Injunctions

had been head of the Little New Deal party when it wiped the injunction off the labor-law books in this state, and had been one of the noisiest critics of the Republicans when they restored it in 1939.

During the days when the labor propagandists were busy trying to prove that the Taft-Hartley Act was a "slave labor law," one of their great criticisms of that act was that it, like its predecessor the Case Bill, relied on injunctions for two purposes: first, to make the unions live up to their contracts, and second, to protect the public from unnecessary strikes.

Yet the injunction end of the Taft-Hartley Bill is one of the very few parts of it which have not been seriously weakened by the Truman appointees and their pro-union-boss decisions.

Of course, the fact is that even under the Wagner Act, the Federal courts had abundant power to enjoin labor leaders from conduct which was in conflict with public order and the general good. The injunction against Lewis, referred to above, was taken months before the Taft-Hartley Bill was passed.

Injunctions are a necessary link in rule by law. They are not required in a dictatorship, of course, which is rule by men. But in our representative republican form of government, with the judiciary set up as an independent branch of government, there has to be some means of freezing a situation until the courts can review it, and also some means of requiring the losers in the law suits to live up to the court's decisions. Otherwise we have chaos.

There has been talk of invoking injunctions to break up the new coal walk-off, which has begun to have serious national effects in many fields, as well as the meat strike, which is starting to disrupt prices and food supplies.

It will be interesting to see whether this approach by law will have the sort of success which previous policies, largely either intimidation or appeasement, failed to produce during the first two years of the Truman Administration.

Clergy Will Dwell On 7 Last "Words"

On Friday evening at 7:45 there will be a worship service in Cornwells Methodist Church. The pastor, the Rev. H. Henry Heavener, will speak on "The Crucifixion of Our Lord." There will be special instrumental and vocal music.

Other Good Friday services will include: Presbyterian Church of Our Saviour, eight p. m.; Zion Lutheran Church, 7:30 p. m.; Calvary Baptist Church, 7:45 p. m.; Grace Episcopal Church, Himeville, 7:30; sermon "Judas" and litany; Newport Road Community Chapel, service at 7:30; Pennell Lutheran Church, Holy Communion, eight p. m.; Croydon Lutheran Church, Holy Communion, eight p. m.; Nesaminy Methodist Church, Himeville, television program, featuring sermon by Bishop Carson, 9 p. m.

Services this evening in various churches include: Cornwells Heights Methodist Church, communion service, 7:45, with Dr. Charles Kitz, north district superintendent, officiating, and special music by junior and senior choirs; Harriman Methodist Church, Sacrament of Holy Communion, eight o'clock; Presbyterian Church of Our Saviour, celebration of Lord's Supper, eight o'clock; Zion Lutheran Church, service at 7:30; Edgely Presbyterian Church, communion at eight o'clock; Nesaminy Methodist Church, Himeville, Holy Communion, eight o'clock.

ALWAYS NEW GLOVES FOR EASTER!
Your glove wardrobe, or that of a friend, can always stand the addition of another pair, and on Easter morning, especially, the hands should be spotlessly garbed. As usual, "Kaysers" has come up with new Easter and spring gloves of high quality at reasonable prices. Also, as usual, Snellenburgs is featuring some of the best Kayser offerings. For the softer tailors and dressy costumes, there are six-button lengths of fine, firm, de-lustered rayon. These have fashionable back openings, each fastened with a pearl button. These gloves come in navy, white, gray, in sizes 6 to 7½, at $1.98. Chipper Kayser "shorties," of equally good fit, hand-sewn, with "cuff-link" fastenings of two crocheted buttons each, come in sizes 6 to 7½, at $2.98, etc. Your choice of white stitched with navy, white with white. (1st fl.)

USEFUL CHARM
describes the realistic leaf coasters that will make such spring-like Easter gifts. Seen on a forest floor, you couldn't tell them from the real thing! These large "natural" leaves are fashioned from a fine green rubber that is resistant to water heat, liquor, etc. Deep veins trap moisture, prevent skidding. Use them under glasses, hot plates, candles, vases, etc. Well worth $2.98 for a boxed set of eight. Snellenburg China & Glassware Dept. (3rd fl.)

SPRING HANDBAGS are fascinating. They are not necessarily expensive, although the $4.95 faillie ones at Snellenburgs certainly look it. These faillies have all the new touches and are in all the new shapes. Also, there are interesting broadcloth numbers in several colors! These are priced at $2.95 and $4.95. Nice for you—nice for gifting! There's the usual U. S. tax of 20% on all bag prices. (1st fl.)

BUDGET BONNETS.
That's what I call them, because their charm is so little—$1.95 to $4.75. You'll find them in the Snellenburg First Floor Millinery Dept. Every "Budgeteer" family must have new Easter headgear, inexpensive or luxurious. There's a special group for the younger women and girls, too—a $2.95 and $3.75 selection of the new straw-cloth. These have open crowns, sweet flowers, glamorous veils! Hurry—there's still time! (1st fl.)

NEWEST "SHORT-IES," those pert little spring coats to wear over frocks, can be had, in 100% wool, for a mere $10.95, in the Snellenburg Sports Dept. There's an exciting choice of black, navy, green, as well as pastel plaids. Of course they have swing backs! Sizes run from 12 to 18. This is a real department to watch. It has many really clever things at amazing low prices. (2nd fl.)

JUST IN TIME for our men's Easter wearing, the Snellenburg Men's Furnishings Dept. is presenting those good "Shirtcraft" broadcloth shirts in three favorite masculine solid colors—blue, gray, tan. These fine "Shirtcrafters" are guaranteed not to shrink have wilt-proof collars, Tag-Proof buttons, carefully worked buttonholes. They come in sizes 14 to 17. Three sleeve lengths—33, 34, 35. Price? $3.70. Why not buy our males a "Shirtcraft" model in each of the three colors? (1st fl.)

MODERN BOYS are really "dandies," and the youngest walking male is immensely proud of new shoes. The Snellenburg Boys' Shoe Dept. says that the young fry wearing sizes 1 to 6 especially like footwear similar to Dad's, and the shop is featuring, for Easter and Spring, snappy brown, elk-finished cowhides, in three popular masculine styles—wing tip, moccasin toe straight tip. Some tips even have grown-up medallion toe-punching! These are damp-proof, soled with "Neolite," which is said to outwear leather. Plenty of toe-room. Tell the boys, too, that these shoes are made in a factory which specializes in men's shoes only! Priced at $6.95 a pair. (1st fl.)

P. S. Do send clippings with mail orders when you can! Phone free (5c, 10c, and 15c out-of-town calls only). Penna.—ENT, 10160; Jersey—WX-1150. Shop located Market, 11th to 12th Sts., Phila.—through to 1125-29 Chestnut St. Be heartin' from post!

Faithfully, FAITH.

the awards on behalf of the team.
Although St. Ann's also won the handicap division of the 5-man team, tournament rules prevent a team from receiving more than one trophy. This prize went to the Edgely Plumbing and Heating team and was received by "Vince" Stratton. The trophy was donated by Spencer Brothers. The second place handicap trophy, donated by the Bristol Paint and Chemical Company, went to the Voltz-Texaco mapleers. Edgely Plumbing and Heating had a 2772 score with Voltz getting 2730.

MRT Jones and Robert Robinson knocked over 1121 pins to win the doubles-event trophy donated by John S. Lynn. Second prize, donated by John Wichser and Son, was awarded to Sid Purcell and Sam Dietrich. Dietrich and Purcell had a total score of 1068.

The handicap doubles' trophy, given by Francis O'Boyle, was won by Daniel Scheffey and William Salerno. The trophy for second position, donated by Wichser and Son, was won by C. Yocum and William Leinauer.

John Champion won the singles event with a score of 629 with Marvin Lynch getting second place.
Lynch knocked over 584 maples in the three games. The trophies were donated by George Dougherty and
C. Stoneback.

In the handicap singles, Dick Mc-Kinney topped the bowlers with a 621 score and Ernie Sutton took second honors with 611. McKinney's trophy was given by Creaser-Whipps while William Warner gave the trophy to Sutton.

Milton Jones captured first prize in the All Events match with Marvin Lynch getting second position.
The scores were 1750 and 1712, respectively. For the handicap all events match, John Champion won with 1758 points and Dick McKinney getting second place with 1709.
Bristol Paint, Odd Fellows, Stone-back's, and Rathke donated these trophies in the order given.

The cash awards were made as follows with the scores accompanying the teams or players: Five-man

Rathke announced that the following members of committees were responsible for the success of the tournament:

Publicity, Horace States, Andrew
Moore, George Polyak; scoring,
William Wichser and Fred Stewart; average records, William Boyd.

John Olexa, Headley Warner, Robert
McKinney, Leslie Moss, Al
Lewis, and Delbert Lynn; promotion, George Shumard, Michael Korkel, George Dougherty, William
Johnson, Arthur Kramers, John
Olexa, William Leinauer, Milton
Jones, Dayton Fogley, Edward Garr,
Al Lewis; prize, Samuel Shire, John
Lynn, Henry Morgan, M. E. Whipps,
Andrew MacArthur served as tournament treasurer.

The local tournament was watched closely by the officials of the American Bowling Congress and was practically a "must" to the Bristol organization as the national tournament of the ABC will be held in Atlantic City next year.

The present national American Bowling Congress is being held in Detroit. Two teams, Fairweather's Cafe and Wetherill's, will leave today to participate in the tourney, representing the Bristol Bowling Association. Fairweather bowlers will consist of William Wichser,
Bob Robinson, Delbert Lynn,

George Shumard, and Ernest Sutton while the Wetherill quintet will be composed of: Robert Wardrop, Wil-ham VanSciver, Anthony Boccardo,
Andrew Moore, and W. Vanflorn.

Officers of the Bristol Bowling Association for the year 1947-48 are: President, Robert Robinson;
1st vice-pres, Warren Jennings; 2nd vice-pres, Samuel Shire; 3rd vice-pres, John Coleman; 4th vice-pres,
Andy Moore; secretary, Delbert
Lynn; treasurer, Andrew Mac-
Arthur; executive directors, Fred
Stewart, William Wichser, Horace
States, and William O'Dea.

The watch charms were donated by Nichols Photo Studio, Charles Richman, and Leon Plavin.

County Seat Couple Return From South American Trip

DOYLESTOWN, Mar. 25 — A county seat couple have concluded a 5½ weeks trip to points in South America, they returning on "The Uruguay" Monday. The two making the journey are Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Ely.

Mr. and Mrs. Ely enjoyed the South American weather and hospitality. They visited Buenos Aires, Rio de Janeiro, Montevideo and Santos, the latter the largest coffee exporting center in the world. When they crossed the Equator, they participated in the ceremony for the tourists, who had never crossed the imaginary line before. The ship was stopped and Father Neptune went aboard and initiated several of the passengers. Mr. and Mrs. Ely received their certificates after they had crossed the Equator.

Calvary Baptist Church

Text: Mark 15:25
"And it was the third hour, and they crucified Him."

O Lord, we come boldly to Thy throne of grace with thankful hearts this Easter season. We praise Thee for the substitutionary Death of our Lord Jesus Christ on Calvary's Cross. Realizing that we cannot save ourselves nor pay the price for our own sins, we humbly acknowledge the Death that Jesus died for us. It satisfies our hearts to know that He rent the veil, and now we can have access in the place of exclusion. Grant that many who have not yet believed in Him shall accept His atoning Death for their salvation. This we ask for Jesus' sake. Amen.

Sunday visitors of Miss Kate Booth, Beaver street.

Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Musgrove and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mardis, Radcliffe street, spent Sunday visiting at Lakehurst, N. J.

Mrs. Anna Levers, Philadelphia, spent the week-end with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Corrigan, near Buckley street. John Corrigan is in Chicago, Ill., this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Barrett and daughter Honor, Mrs. Mary Barrett and Mrs. William Gorman, of Philadelphia, were Sunday visitors of Mrs. Theresa Gavegan, Beaver St.

HIGH SCHOOL TEAM TO BE DIVIDED IN THE "TOURNEY"

The strength of the Bristol High School varsity team will be divided in the forthcoming Gold Medal Basketball Tournament. The rule, limiting each team to two lettermen of any high school team, has scattered the players to various lineups. "Jim" Sottile, season's high scorer at the Warriors' institute, has hooked up with the Franklin A. C. while the other part of the scoring combination, "Johnny" Pinar, is with Joe, Roe's Harriman team. Dave Morrell and the lanky John Bailey will be members of the Bristol Township quintet. Val Bielecki and "Ham" Konefal will be on the roster of the Parkway Inn, and Don DeLong will be the pivot man of the Penn A. C. roster. Bob Bowen and Jimmy Marshall will be members of the Bristol Methodist boys' Club outfit.

In the meantime, two more lineups have been issued by Jerry Bloom and Walter Rosser who are in charge of the entries. These are the Parkway Inn team which will be managed by Martin Braam, of Schumacher Drive, Bristol Terrace, and the Penn A. C. quintet which will be handled by "Kenny" Martin, of Jackson street.

The Parkway lineup has: Frank Harbetta, Joe Findar, Frank Rich, Dick Harman, Henry Konefal, Gasper Favoroso, Robert Konefal, Martin Braam, Jr., Francis Constantino, Val Bielecki.

Indications point to the teams being as evenly matched as possible. The local lineups are mostly players of the Bristol High School, Bristol High Junior Varsity, Bristol Junior High, and the Bristol Youth League. Morrisville Boys' Club, the Carlins, and Snyders have not submitted their rosters. The latter two teams are from Trenton.

The tournament opens Monday night at 7 o'clock on the high school floor.

YOUTH PLAYOFFS WILL START TONIGHT

The final game of the Bristol Youth League playoff will take place tonight with Franklin meeting the Keystone Oilers on the high school floor. In the preliminary game, the Youth League All-Stars, managed by "Jimmy" Lake, will play the Youth League Alumni, a team composed of players who formerly played in the Youth League.

This is the third meeting between Franklin and the Oilers with Franklin winning both games. However, Franklin did not appear so offensive on the spacious high school court last night and may receive plenty of opposition from the Oilers.

HIGH SCHOOL TEAM TO BE DIVIDED IN THE 'TOURNEY'

The strength of the Bristol High School varsity team will be divided in the forthcoming Gold Medal Basketball Tournament. The rule, limiting each team to two lettermen of any high school team, has scattered the players to various lineups.

"Jim" Sottile, season's high scorer at the Warriors' Institute, has hooked up with the Franklin A. C. while the other part of the scoring combination, "Johnny" Pindar is with Joe, Roe's Harriman team. Dave Morrell and the lanky John Bailey will be members of the Bristol Township quintet. Val Bielecki and "Ham" Konefal will be on the roster of the Parkway Inn, and Don DeLong will be the pivot man of the Penn A. C. roster. Bob Bogen and Jimmy Marshall will be members of the Bristol Methodist Boys' Club outfit.

In the meantime, two more lineups have been issued by Jerry Bloom and Walter Rosner who are in charge of the entries. These are the Parkway Inn team which will be managed by Martin Broom, of Schumacher Drive, Bristol Terrace, and the Penn A. C. quintet which will be handled by "Kenny" Martin, of Jackson street.

The Parkway lineup has: Frank Harbetta, Joe Pindar, Frank Rich, Dick Harman, Henry Konefal, Gasper Favoroso, Robert Konefal, Martin Broom, Jr., Francis Constantino, Val Bielecki.

Indications point to the teams being as evenly matched as possible. The local lineups are mostly players of the Bristol High School, Bristol High Junior Varsity, Bristol Junior High, and the Bristol Youth League, Morrisville Boys' Club, the Carlinis, and Snyder's have not submitted their rosters. COLLECTOR INFORMS OF LIFE OF HICKS

L. L. Beans, Distant Relative of Edward Hicks, Has Many of His Works

LARGEST PAINTING 4x6

By L. L. Beans
651 Stuyvesant Ave.
Trenton, N. J.

As we near the 99th anniversary of the death of Edward Hicks on August 23, 1849, I think it only fitting and proper that the readers of your paper should have what information I have on his life, and what experience I have had in collecting his paintings. It should be of special interest to the residents of Bucks county, as Edward Hicks was born in Attleborough (now Langhorne), April 4, 1780, and died most of his work in Newtown.

There are two reasons the life and paintings of Edward Hicks have been of special interest to me. The first and foremost is that I was born and raised in Newtown, within a mile of where he lived and did a good part of his life's work. Also, his wife, Sarah Worstall, was a relative in my family three generations back. I know from family tradition and connections that there were several of his paintings in my family, and I believed there were a number of others, so about four years ago I started to round them up. The one that gave me the greatest search was one that my family sold when I was a small child, and to the best of my knowledge this one was the largest one that he ever painted, being 4 feet by 6 feet, and being painted on two carriage tops sewed down the center. The scene is hardly visible, however. This has the original brown frame very similar to the ones on most of the "Peaceable Kingdoms." This painting was a special order for the dining room of Wood's Tavern, and I am also in possession of the inn sign by Hicks for the same tavern. In contrast to this large size, the smallest Hicks paintings I have is 1 1/2 x 3 1/2 inches, done in oil. I have just recently come into possession of one of his finest "Peaceable Kingdoms." This one is in its original condition, and still in the brown frame as Edward Hicks placed it. I think my most interesting Hicks, however, is one in which he painted scenery completely around the wood frame, much as he lettered the frames on some of his "Kingdoms." I have several other Hicks paintings, some of which are now being restored, and I shall have my complete collection on display about June 15th, and shall be glad to have anyone see them who is interested in his life and work.

I also have in my possession proof that Edward Hicks did spend some part of his years between 1800 and 1820 in other artists' workshops, and put forth a great amount of effort to become a fine artist, but it is very lucky for the lover of "primitive" art that he did not succeed. It was not meant that Edward, but his cousin Thomas Hicks, should become the great artist of his day. It was rather meant that Edward should remain to be

Inside Your Congress

—by—

SAMUEL B. PETTINGILL
"The Gentleman from Indiana"

President Truman says that Republican talk of cutting the Truman $40 billion budget is "just conversation." He pointed to the dismal record of the Republican Congress last year as proof of his prophecy. Will "Just Conversation" be the inscription on the G. O. P. tombstone?

Mr. Truman can point to his Economic Report in January: "The Federal government is deferring many public works projects and following procurement policies designed to minimize their effect upon price increases. I urge state and local governments to do likewise." Then what happens? We find a Republican House in Washington voting the largest appropriation in history for a river and harbor, and flood control pork barrel bill. The largest in history, I said, competing for scarce steel, labor, etc. It makes pikers of New Deal pork.

For flood control and rivers and harbors, the largest sum voted in Roosevelt's twelve tremendous years was $269,000,000. For 1917, a Democratic Congress voted $315,000,000. For 1948, a Republican Congress voted $415,000,000. For the coming fiscal year, a Republican House has voted $506,558,765.

This pork is carefully distributed among 43 states. Only 5 states—all small in population—and, therefore, negligible in politics—failed to get some of the gravy.

But there is another seamy side to this political pork. Despite Mr. Truman's brave words in January, about deferring public works projects, this $506,000,000 is $131,000,000 less than Truman's own budget director asked Congress to vote. So who is fooling whom?

Just whose "conversation" are we supposed to listen to, anyway? This fall, the G. O. P. will point with pride to the fact that they voted $131,000,000 less pork than the Democrats asked them to. But, the Democrats will view with alarm the biggest river, harbor and flood control bill in history. And the music goes round and round as the con leaders grind the crank.

tractors, material men, and labor works in good times and hold them. It is sound policy to defer public as a "back-log" in bad times. This would not only save millions for the Treasury, but help level out the peaks and valleys of the employment cycle. But do we do it? Seldom. The pressure boys for pork and votes are too much for an apathetic people. It raises the question whether the "democracy" we brag so much about is capable of self-government. Well, it isn't, unless a League of Honest Men gets mad and stays mad.

With the exception of interstate river projects, these items of pork are within the boundaries of the individual states. But had as some state legislatures are, they wouldn't saddle their voters with these costs. So, the lobbyists go to the far-off government in Washington for the money. Washington, of course, gets the money from the states, but the round-about sleight-of-hand fools Boobus Americanus. He thinks he gets something for nothing. Then, when Congressional District A gets a piece of pork, the Congressman from District B wants some, too. In order to indemnify it's District for taxes it pays for A's District. As there are 435 districts, this runs through 17 alphabets. And thus, as President Arthur once said: "As the bill becomes more objectionable, it secures more support." Here is one of the unsolved problems of our democracy, a tora of government bragged about too much, and calmly examined too little. —SAMUEL B. PETTINGILL.

NEWS OF INTEREST TO PA. FARMERS

By Jack Ward
I. N. S. Penna. Farm Editor
HARRISBURG, Mar. 25—(INS)—Generally overlooked during the usual tomfoolery of "April Fool's Day," April 1 also will mark the traditional "fitting day" among Pennsylvania's farm population.

"Fitting Day" is the time when farm purchasers or new tenants move in to assume operation in time for spring plowing and planting, according to the State Agriculture Department.

The latest Federal-State survey shows that prices of Pennsylvania farms per acre are 74 per cent higher than during the 1935-39 pre-war average, the Department reported.

Farm buyers in the Commonwealth are better off than those in other states. Acreage farm prices have increased an average of 97 per cent in the country since pre-war days, the survey showed.

Agriculture officials believe that the peak of sales has been reached in Pennsylvania, both in price and rate of turnover.

Sales may even decline after the early spring season, they explained. The number of voluntary farm sales and trades in the state has been fairly consistent during the past three years. In 1942 such sales amounted to 34.4 of every thousand farms. The number increased to 50.4 and 52.7 in 1944 and 1946.

Farm buyers reportedly have paid cash for about one-half of all purchases during the last four years despite higher prices and liberal credit terms. Down-payments on mortgage transfers have averaged about two-fifths of the purchase price, and although many farms have been heavily mortgaged, large principal repayments generally have been made.

The number of auction sales of farm livestock and equipment appears to be about average in some areas of the state and slightly less in others, the Agriculture Department said.

Pennsylvania hens produced 264,000,000 eggs and dairy cattle 293,000,000 pounds of milk during the 29-day month of February, the Agriculture Department reported.

Egg production was 3,000,000 higher than during January and came from 19,612,000 layers, three per cent below the January total.

Milk production was 8,000,000 pounds below the previous month although the average yield from 552,000 cows was five per cent higher than in January.

Reflecting the February collapse of the grain market, prices paid by farmers of all dairy feeds declined sharply, but rallied slightly near the end of the month.

Milk production was 8,000,000 pounds below the previous month although the average yield from 352,000 cows was five per cent higher than in January.

Reflecting the February collapse of the grain market, prices paid by farmers of all dairy feeds declined sharply, but rallied slightly near the end of the month.
